My name is Louis. People say that I have a problem with personal space. I don't think I do. I am a space expert!!!!

The other day on the playground, I was showing Rusty how comets sometimes smash right into satellites.

I was the comet.

Rusty was the satellite. When we smashed, the playground teacher used her cranky voice.

“Louis!” she said. “You have a problem with your personal space!” Why would she say that to me? I thought. I am a space expert!!!!
